Research Security Training Required

Faculty submitting proposals to the NSF or USDA must now complete ORIC's research security training before applying. The one-hour course, available in Learning Central under ORIC_Research_Security, satisfies both agencies' requirements.

Please keep a copy of your completion certificate and upload it to your Streamlyne record with each submission.

Applications Open for LIFT Faculty Leadership Program

The WeR1 Leadership Innovation for Faculty Transformation (LIFT) program is expanding in 2026, offering tenured faculty on the Albuquerque campus mentoring, support, and a focused cohort model to strengthen research leadership while advancing UNM's mission.

Applications are due Thursday, October 16, with selections announced in mid-November.

If you receive notification of a stop work order, termination, or reinstatement of a federal research grant, please:

- Notify the Office of the Vice President for Research AND

NEWS FROM THE ASSOCIATE DEAN FOR STUDENT SUCCESS

Advisement Prepares for Registration Week

Message from Marlene Sanchez, Director of Center for Academic Success

Registration week is November 3–7. Our A&S Advisors are guiding students through course planning and degree progress for spring semester.

The team is conducting degree checks and hosting individual advising sessions to help students understand their requirements and stay on track.

Thank you for encouraging students to schedule appointments early!

A&S Center for Academic Success Workshops for Faculty and Staff

"Faculty Role in Undergrad Processes"

This workshop strengthens faculty-advisor partnerships to support student success. Topics include transfer equivalencies, course overrides, departmental honors, grading implications for financial aid and degree progression (C- grades, W versus F, etc.), and collaborative processes. Participants will share best practices for effective collaboration.

Date: Tuesday, October 14

Time: 1:15–3:00 PM

Location: Center for Academic Success Conference Room (UAEC)

"Demystifying the Undergrad Degree"

Learn about core curriculum, major/minor requirements, and key policies affecting degree progress. This session will help you guide students and ensure consistent understanding of undergraduate degree pathways.

Date: Thursday, November 20

Time: 10:00–11:45 AM

Location: Center for Academic Success Conference Room (UAEC)
